Carter at the prohibitive odds of 2 to 7. Cressing and Kentucky Beau were quoted at 6 to 1 and 7 to 1, respectively, the former attracting strong sup-port for the place. The start was perfect, aloted, which counted slightly against a record Miller sent McCarter right along on the back stretch, and after shaking Kentucky Beau went on and opened up a gap of two or three lengths. He maintained this advantage to the end, and although Miller rode him out, in the vain hope of establishing a new mark, it was o no avail, as the timer hung out 1:39. Kentuck; Beau stopped badly, and Cressina chased Mc-Carter home through the last half mile, but never threatened any particular danger.

Rapid Water, an added starter, was heavily played from 3 to 1 to 2 to 1 to win the handleap. at a mile and a sixteenth, while Orbicular, th opening choice, drifted back from 8 to 5 to 13 to 5 and even higher before the barrier was ly to the far turn, when he took co. Rye beat the fast closing Orbicular a head for field with Radtke's handling of Orbicular, and they called him up for an explanation. He gave

Radtke came in for much unfavorable criti-cism, however, by those who watched the race closely, and many persons went home firmly vinced that he was not more than half trying. Garner's handling of Lord Lovat in the same race was quite as bad. The horse was backed from 8 to 1 to 9 to 2, but Garner seemed quite content to race head and head with Orbicular in last place on a herse which has been showing early speed in all his races which has been in retirement since the Belmont Park meeting, was a starter in the first race. He was served up as a 2 to 5 favorite, as it second to be working fast and was the hest colt in Madden's barn. He won, but hardly in commanding style, as he had to be hard ridden most of the way to shake off Gene Russell. He won rather easily, however, in the last few strides, and the race will undoubtedly do him good. It is just possible that he may be Colin's chief rival in some of the rich stakes to come, as he is a well furnished, racy looking youngster. Golden Pearl, a half brother to Water Pearl, which came to an untimely end after being considered among the best two-year-olds last season, made his ap-pearance in this race. He had speed for half a mile, but stopped as if he needed two or three

J. W. Colf's horses, Blue Pigeon and Thistlele, ran one, two in the steeplechase over the ort course. The latter opened up a big gap in the early part, forcing the pace for his stable nion. He hung on well enough to earn ace, but Blue Pigeon came away to win last turn, but tired in the run home. The time starting point was changed to give the horses a race, while The Squire was pounds the best of the others. James R. Keene's Sepoy was second turning for home, but tired badly or stopped. He has failed to develop into the good colt which his early races promised. First Mason, running in the name and colors of C. E. Durnell, was an odds-on favorite in the last race, but failed once more to show any of his oldtime form. Sonoma Belle, coming from last place on the backstretch, closed with a rush and got up in the last stride to win by a head. The finish was a spectacular one, as five horses finished so close together that a blanket would have covered them. Maxnar was badly crowded by Racine II at the last sixteenth pole, which knocked him out of his stride. Otherwise he might have won.

Nimbus had little trouble in winning the fifth

| Solution for home, but tired badly or stopped to the grew out of the judging in class 52 for amateur pairs. The only teams shown were Mrs. Gerken's and C. W. Watson's. The latter got the first prize. Mrs. Gerken said that while, naturally, she believed hers were the better horses, she did not mind so much getting second place as being obliged to work her horses around a heavy soil for nearly half an hour.

Mr. Watson's horses were especially fortunate to-day, and won three blues and a yellow ribbon for their owner. The only other exhibitor who got an equal number of blues in to-day's classes was sidney Holloway, with his jumpers and hunters. In addition, Mr. Holloway got a red, yellow and white. He won a handsome cup with his bay gelding Taconite, and this was promptly christened with champagne at the clubhouse.

THE YANKEE GIRL RACE.

Ellison Gets Second Call on Radtke -More Fake Badges.

The defeat of Yankee Girl by Gold Lady on Thursday was still the subject of conversation among racegoers yesterday, and a rumor was current that the stewards had called on Miller for an explanation of his ride, although this was denied later. C. R. Ellison, who owns Yankee Girl, had cooled out to some extent, but it was plain that he was not entirely satisfied with Miller's handling of his filly. He said that he told Miller, as was his custom when putting up a good boy, to use his own judgment, but not to let Yankee Girl drop too far out of it. This, unfortunately, he did, although in the light of Gold Lady's good race and the fast time hung up it is hardly probable that Yankee Girl could have won.

E.500, and not $500 as reported.

The following notice was issued to the book-makers resterday: "Cashiers are requested to exercise great care in paying off the first four or five men in line, and are advised to examine all badges carefully on both sides." It seems that some persons have been resorting to the old trick of watching a bet made and then changing the numbers on a badge to correspond, so that a winning bet could be collected without the chance of risking any money.

The programme book of the Sarajoga Racing Association was distributed among borsemen at Brighton Beach yesterday. No less than twenty-nine stakes, some of them among the richest of the season, will be decided during the meeting which will begin on August 5 and continue to

KING'S CALL SOUNDS FAR AWAY.

'We Will Return No More," Say Prospering Swedish-Americans.

Swedes in this city didn't seem to think yesterday that King Oscar's efforts to repatriate those of his subjects who had come to live here would be crowned with much success. J. Edward Swanstrom, president of the Home Trust Company and former Borough President of Brooklyn, summarized the whole spirit of the Swedish-American reception of King Oscar's ideas when he said opportunities here were so much greater than those in Sweden that Swedes could not be expected to stay there or to return after having once gained a foothold in this country.

"Sweden," said Mr. Swanstrom, "is a pleasant country to live in. It is well governed, beautiful and salubrious. But the opportunities for success are not nearly so bright as they are in the United States. The young man of to-day looks to the future, and he bases his actions upon what he sees. In Sweden perspectives are limited: here they are unlimited. There is the whole situation in a nutskell.

"Even by royal decree the economic future of a young man could not be materially enhanced. Swedes come here in great numbers. Young, strong, healthy, the sinews of their country, King Oscar may well deprecate their There can be no question but that the emigration from Sweden weakens the country. No country can afford to lose its desirable young men, and no country, proportionately, loses more

Other Swedisa-Americans, including several in the artisan class, agreed with Mr. Swanstrom that there was little chance of checking emi-gration or inducing those already here to return. "Why should we go back?" was the general question. "We are doing well here, and we know enough to stay where we are well off."

Eleven cars were per alized in the contest for the Glidden trophy and two for the Hower Cup. It was the hardest day's run of the tour, as bad roads and steep hills made all kinds of trouble. The six hours allowed vere not enough under the conditions. The chief trouble came between New Brighton and Pittsburg. Laborers were at work on some of the roads, laying down stone, while carts and horses used for hauling the stones blocked the narrow way. Dangerous water breakers were enountered, deep mid holes and stony roads, and riefly, the route offered every conceivable variety of bad going. The hot sun and the thick clouds of dust also added to the discemfort of the tourists. In all the towns large crowds gathered to see with flags and bunting. At Beaver Falls a great throng gathered to do the tourists honor. Here a girl got delight by throwing lemons wrapped in
